

The Index to 19th-Century American Art Periodicals

The Index to 19th-Century American Art Periodicals is the sole online index to 42 art journals published in the U.S. during that century. Available only from OCLC, it provides essential information on artists and illustrators, painting, sculpture, drawing, photography, architecture and design, exhibitions and sales, decoration, and collecting. Mary M. Schmidt, Head Art Librarian Emeritus at Princeton University, and her team of graduate students worked 20 years to create this definitive resource.
