Maximize staff time with WorldCat® cooperative cataloging.

- Do more copy cataloging. WorldCat contains more than 350 million bibliographic records in 482 languages. With this resource, the average library can copy catalog the vast majority of its collections.
- Get higher quality metadata cooperatively created, managed and shared by thousands of experts and OCLC staff.
- The WorldCat knowledge base, which contains 14,000+ collections from 5,900+ providers, empowers you to cooperatively create, manage and share new collections.

“See the possibilities...”

“I see the possibilities if we start sharing these records with one another ... the time that we could save!”

Joseph Hafner
Senior Director, Collection Services
McGill University Library

An OCLC Cataloging Subscription allows you to quickly copy catalog most of your new materials in WorldCat, the world’s largest database of library metadata, and provides a toolset for original cataloging. When the WorldCat community enriches metadata, you receive automatic MARC record updates that keep your collections current.
Enhance your workflow efficiencies and reduce costs.

- Automatically receive enhanced MARC records when improvements that you care about are made to WorldCat records.
- Manage demand-driven acquisition (DDA) titles faster with automated MARC record delivery with customized URLs for titles available and purchased through your DDA program.
- Use a one-stop source for cataloging your print and electronic collections.
- Benefit from full support of RDA and continued support for AACR2 standards.
- Get unlimited free training and support at oc.lc/support.

“So much easier…”

“The ability to retrieve records for all providers in one place makes things so much easier. I’m not going to 20 different sources to get 20 different record sets, I’m just going to one place and getting all the records.”

Holly Tomren
Head of Metadata Services
Drexel University Libraries

Increase visibility of your library’s resources.

- Improve user experience in locating resources through your local discovery solution with WorldCat’s quality metadata.
- Plus, with a WorldCat Discovery Services subscription, you can push this visibility further so users find resources where they start their search: on the Web.
- Create solutions you need for your library with the WorldCat Metadata API and WorldCat knowledge base API.

“Discoverable…”

“We were able to make a very large number of titles discoverable in a very short period of time.”

Carlen M. Ruschoff
Director of Technical Services
University of Maryland, College Park
