

Chinese Electronic Periodical Services

Now available from NetLibrary, the Chinese Electronic Periodical Services (CEPS) by Airiti, Inc. is the first legally-authorized and most comprehensive online database of full-text periodicals from China and Taiwan. Currently, CEPS includes 338,000 articles from more than 2,500 top academic journals. A valuable resource for students, faculty and researchers in the sciences and humanities, CEPS provides a convenient way to easily search, browse and download full-text Chinese-language articles. And CEPS also includes a subscription to Airiti's Taiwan Electronic Periodical Services (TEPS), with access to more than 500 Taiwanese periodicals, all at no additional charge.

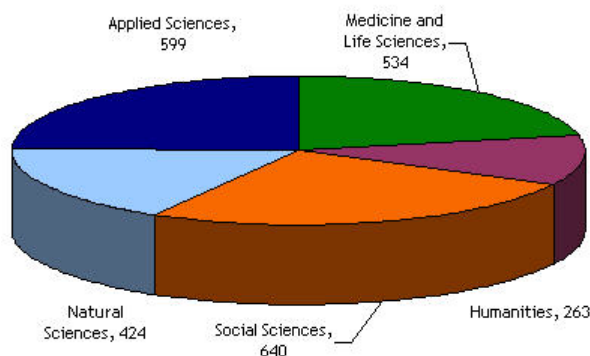

Academic research periodicals

Awarded the Best Digital Publication of 2005 by News Bureau of the Executive Yuan of Taiwan, the CEPS database is updated daily, and provides a comprehensive view of Chinese and Taiwanese scholarship since 1991.

Subjects covered in the collection include:

- Social sciences
- Medical and life sciences
- Humanities
- Applied sciences
- Natural sciences

The graph below illustrates the relative distribution of main subject area content in CEPS, along with the actual number of periodicals available as of July 2006.

CEPS Collection Standards

As standard collection criteria, Airiti selects journals cited in leading Chinese and academic indices including:

- Social Sciences Citation Index® (SSCI®)
- Science Citation Index
- MEDLINE
- Taiwan Social Sciences Citation Index (TSSCI)
- Chinese Social Science Citation Index
- Chinese Science Citation Database (CSCD)
- A Guide to the Core Journals of China

Search, browse and download full text

With both quick and advanced search features, users can conduct full text searches of the CEPS database, or browse by subject, publisher or title. Content can be viewed online or downloaded as a PDF.
