Frequently Asked Questions for Dewey Print-on-Demand

1) Why is OCLC making this change?

We developed this solution based on community feedback that libraries still want access to an offline resource to perform their classification work, especially in places where internet connectivity is unreliable. Plus, with this option, institutions can now receive more timely updates of the DDC in a print version than was available in the previous seven-year release schedule.

2) How frequently will the Dewey Print-on-Demand be updated with changes to the DDC?

Dewey Print-on-Demand will be updated every January and July.

3) Is Dewey Print-on-Demand available in any other language besides English?

No, it is only available in English.

4) How do I order Dewey Print-on-Demand?

If you are an Ingram customer and are interested in purchasing Dewey Print-on-Demand, please visit Ingram.

If you are not an Ingram customer, you can purchase Dewey Print-on-Demand from these retailers:

5) When I go to the retailers’ sites, I see a message that says, “Out of stock” or “Backorder”. Is this available to order?

Yes, this product is available for order. Because this resource is printed once an order is requested and is not physically sitting at a retailers’ site, it may be considered by the retailer to be “Out of Stock” or “Backorder”.

6) What is the price for Dewey Print-on-Demand?

The price will vary per retailer.
7) How long will it take to receive my order?

The shipping time will vary per retailer.
