Rethinking Resource Sharing Manifesto

1. Restrictions shall only be imposed as necessary by individual institutions with the goal that the lowest-possible-barriers-to-fulfillment are presented to the user.
2. Library users shall be given appropriate options for delivery format, method of delivery, and fulfillment type, including loan, copy, digital copy, and purchase.
3. Global access to sharable resources shall be encouraged through formal and informal networking agreements with the goal towards lowest-barrier-to-fulfillment.
4. Sharable resources shall include those held in cultural institutions of all sorts: libraries, archives, museums, and the expertise of those employed in such places.
5. Reference services are a vital component to resource sharing and delivery and shall be made readily accessible from any initial “can’t supply this” response. No material that is findable should be totally unattainable.
6. Libraries should offer service at a fair price rather than refuse but should strive to achieve services that are not more expensive than commercial services, e.g. bookshops.
7. Library registration should be as easy as signing up for commercial web-based services. Everyone can be a library user.

STAR Checklist, v.2

- Now using an expanded Checklist of 100 items grouped under the seven principles of the RRSI Manifesto
- Provides a structured framework for reviewing and reflecting on your library's resource sharing/interlibrary loan policies, procedures, and services
- Designed to challenge ILL/resource-sharing practitioners and library decision-makers to live on the front lines of rethinking resource sharing

STAR Checklist, v.2

- Even items not appropriate for your library (now) can still spark conversations re: ways to improve the resource sharing services your library provides
- Libraries that submit the checklist and qualify for one to four stars receive a certificate and letter of recognition affirming the library's commitment to rethinking resource sharing.
- Please complete the checklist and submit it or print out a PDF copy and start working to earn your STAR(S) today!
