#archivegrid

Paula Stuart-Warren @PaulaStuartWarr
Updating my NUCMC & Its Cousins lecture after great #archivegrid webinar today. Thanks to a great ArchiveGrid team

Ashley Booth @AshleyNBooth
Great webinar on OCLC's #archivegrid. It will be very interesting to see how things progress.

Helen Kim @hlnkim
Not all of my finding aids on OAC were harvested by #archivegrid even though they were posted several months ago?

Stanford ARS @StanfordARS
Also noticing problems with records harvested from Worldcat that state many of our collections are at different division #archivegrid

Tracy M Jackson @CraftyJackson
#archivegrid sounds like they're starting on the archival commons with a gaming structure. Sweet!
Yale Music Library @yalemusiclib @MerrileeIAm #archivegrid Thx for voicing my question!

Karim B Boughida @kboughida you mean worldcat? autocorrect on "@kos2: important point: #archivegrid is made of 90% from Worldcast, but 10% from other sources"

Bob Kosovsky @kos2
TopicWeb derived relatedness elements based on user input to game on #Archivegrid

mtkidd @TheMadGiggler
Great idea to use gamification to make archival collection more discoverable #archivegrid

Tammi @tammiyk
TopicWeb kind of sounds like http://t.co/8qYmBQ79Jh project for archives. #archivegrid

mtkidd @TheMadGiggler
Listening to webinar by #archivegrid & thought I'd check to see what's new. The FA I added to VA Heritage has already been picked up. Cool!

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
@TheMadGiggler yes, we just reindexed. Our current index and harvest schedule is about every 6 weeks #archivegrid

amy w @amelish
#archivegrid: a positive use for gamification, as opposed to all of those bullshit uses :) (see: http://t.co/j5j24M5zmL)

amy w @amelish
Examples of collaborative games include fold.it, @troveaustralia, http://t.co/SexyauRrmM #archivegrid

Bob Kosovsky @kos2
wow...#Archivegrid incorporating gamification to allow for greater discovery of archival collections

amy w @amelish
#archivegrid team floated idea of #crowdsourcing tool to identify "key collections" about a topic. Who's the team? What's their motivation?

amy w @amelish
"Annotating relations is difficult, even for humans." #NERproblems #archivegrid

amy w @amelish
In other words, NER to make #archivegrid browseable.

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
NER unexpectedly led us to gamification and TopicWeb @btwashburn tells the tale... #archivegrid

Sara Snyder @sosarasays
I like hearing that #archivegrid folks are doing usability studies and #ux research to inform the direction of the product.

amy w @amelish
1st look http://t.co/VHh3V9gTaY MT @MerrileeIAm We'll be publishing results from two studies: user survey and EAD tag analysis. #archivegrid

1More mobile users has lead us to optimize for them, using HTML5 #archivegrid

Yale Music Library @yalemusiclib
How can we make our records fuller in #archivegrid ??

amy w @amelish
Responsive design for #archivegrid based on increasing mobile traffic -@btwashburn

Alyssa Vincent @vin_alyssa
Providing the contact info for the collection's archivist is a big draw of #archivegrid.

Ade Stevenson @adrianstevenson
Hi @helrond . Jane @janestevenson is listening here too, glass of wine in hand #archivegrid
Yale Music Library @yalemusiclib
For example @MerrileeIAm Searching for Vladimir Horowitz, our collection at Yale (the main repository for Horowitz) shows at #7 #archivegrid

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
Because most traffic comes through search engines, we are very interested in Search Engine Optimization (SEO) #archivegrid

Helen Kim @hlnkim
Listening to an @OCLC ArchiveGrid webinar right now. Like it so far & good speakers

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
We are always tweaking our filtering of MARC records to make sure we're getting records that are really "archival" #archivegrid

Bob Kosovsky @kos2
important point: #archivegrid is made of 90% from Worldcast, but 10% from other sources

Tammi @tammiyk
Most descriptions from #archivegrid come from WorldCat MARC records (90%).

Yale Music Library @yalemusiclib
#archivegrid 90% of records come from OCLC/MARC records

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
@yalemusiclib we'll be talking about our challenges with relevance ranking! #archivegrid

#archivegrid wondering if relevancy ranking has gotten better...

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
what's in #archivegrid? Almost 2 million records, mostly from the US, and mostly in MARC

who uses #archivegrid? faculty, researchers, genealogists, and independent researchers

Merrilee Proffitt @MerrileeIAm
@amelish definitely if people want to hope on the webinar, they are welcome #archivegrid

amy w @amelish
Learning about #archivegrid! http://t.co/xRfjOf5VGx May still be possible to register, plus

And the #archivegrid webinar begins!

Keri Cascio @keribrary Attending #archivegrid webinar. It's been a while since I've looked at it.

Amy C. Nickless @amycnickless The #archivegrid webinar is beginning! I wonder what is new about Archive Grid and what I'll learn I didn't know before...

Tammi @tammiyk
