

Introduction

We are interested in how and to what extent OCLC Research Library Partners are modifying library and archival collections, practices and services through a lens of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI). At Partner institutions we see a range of initiatives aimed at creating more inclusive and reflective workplaces as well as strengthening partnerships with external organizations and communities.

In this survey the term "marginalized groups" refers to any group treated differently because of, for example, their place of origin or residence, ethnicity, race, faith, gender identity, or sexual orientation.

Please complete no more than one survey per institution. We encourage your institution to participate in this survey regardless of the status of your EDI efforts. Survey results are intended to be shared at the 2017 Research Library Partners meeting on November 1, 2017 and distributed on the RLP distribution lists. We anticipate that the survey should take 5-15 minutes to complete.

Survey results may identify your institution as a participant, but personal information will remain confidential.

I have read the above information and affirm that I am 18 years of age or older. By clicking "NEXT", I consent to participate in this survey.

Please respond by 9 October 2017.

You can return to the survey to edit your responses at any time until the survey closes, as long as you use the same device. Questions that require a response are marked with an asterisk (*).

If you have questions, please contact Karen Smith-Yoshimura, Senior Program Officer, OCLC Research, at smithyok@oclc.org or +1-415-269-5796.
